HUD Housing Assistance

A subsidized Housing Unit is one in which a tenant pays approximately 30% their adjusted income on rent and utilities. The management agent and/or the Public Housing Authority (PHA) calculate the tenant's rent amount. HUD then pays the difference between the tenants rent contribution and the total rent that is paid to the building owner.

Project-based assistance is rental assistance that is located at a housing unit or complex. Generally, the subsidized/assisted rent is tied to that particular building.

The Low-Income Housing Tax Credit (LIHTC) Program provides tax credits to developers of affordable rental housing. The tax credits are provided during the first 10 years of a minimum 30-year compliance period during which rent, and income restrictions apply.

Supportive Housing for the Elderly Program is the primary elderly HUD housing program and is open to any very low-income household comprised of at least one person who is at least 62 years old at the time of initial occupancy. However, there are unique cases in which an elderly building may accept applicants who are younger and/or have a disability.

Licensed Child Care Providers

Childcare centers and preschools are typically established in a commercial building. Centers are usually affiliated with either a public or private agency. Children are often in larger groups of children close to their own age. Ages cared for in these programs are six weeks to five years of age but often include school- age children before- and after-school and during school breaks. Use our child care finder tool to locate a Better Beginnings program in your community. Better Beginnings is the system in Arkansas that assesses and supports the quality of early care and education programs. Better Beginnings is available to every licensed and registered childcare provider in the state. Whether your child attends a childcare family home, an out-of-school time program, or a childcare center, you can use the Better Beginnings star rating to guide you in finding a good program for your family's needs. Every child deserves our best!

Services ALL counties in Arkansas Cross River Therapy is a leading provider of ABA therapy services for children who are on the autism spectrum. We provide ABA therapy for children ages 1-21 who are on the autism spectrum, right in the comfort of your home, or community setting as well as school-based support. We're proud to offer at-home, school-based, and center-based ABA therapy to children diagnosed with autism who'd thrive with extra support.

Arkansas requires what is called a "two-prong diagnosis" to receive ABA therapy. This means an initial diagnosis must be given by a speech language pathologist and/or psychiatrist/psychologist, as well as the child's doctor. Once this is completed, they are then eligible for ABA therapy. If you notice symptoms of Autism Spectrum Disorder in your child, please contact their doctor for an evaluation referral.

Youth Advocate Programs— YAP® for short— is a national nonprofit delivering and advocating for evidence-based services in homes and communities as a more effective alternative to youth incarceration and group child welfare, behavioral health, and intellectual disabilities placements. We also partner with public safety systems to help curb neighborhood violence.

YAP® recognizes generational and structural impacts on educational, employment, health, and other systems across the U.S. and globally.

By redirecting justice, child welfare, behavioral health, and other social services dollars and resources from youth prisons and other residential facilities to communities where our program participants live, we are helping our systems partners achieve better service delivery and outcomes, which are strengthened with our evidence-based individual and family wraparound services model.

YAP provides young people, adults, and families with intensive support in their homes, schools and communities through our YAPWrap® model that blends best practices from research in wraparound, mentoring, and positive youth development

We partner with families to build and strengthen essential skills and resources needed to thrive throughout life, such as increasing their ability to safely problem-solve their needs, developing social, emotional, academic and career competencies, and building networks of community support.

YAP Advocates meet with participants multiple times a week at the times most needed by the individual and family, with an emphasis on safety and support. Individualized plans balance involuntary service demands with activities driven by the participant's prioritized wants and needs.

318-582-5757 Long-term residential treatment has been shown to be more effective than shorter programs in many cases. With this type of treatment, clients are required to remain in a monitored setting with other individuals in recovery throughout the duration of their program. Treatments and daily schedules throughout a long-term rehab program are highly structured and often incorporate several approaches. These involve personal reflection, addiction education, as well as group and personal therapy sessions. All of these components work together to address the whole person (not just the addiction) and help residents understand the scope of their addiction, as well as experience true, lasting recovery.
